

Tree of Life Daath

Unity with all Knowledge

You Are Here

- Home to Pluto here is the space that contains all knowledge, the gathering of all information from the Tree of Life, or more importantly; your Tree of Life.

Pluto

- Sometimes seen like this ♇
- He's the modern ruler of Scorpio
- He's the planet of transformation, often through tough times, a destructive force
- He encourages you to explore that which makes you fearful, to face them
- He's also about death, taxes and unavoidable truths
- He takes a whopping 248 years to make one circuit around a chart
- He's a generational planet, where was he when you were born?

Correspondences for Daath

- Gods/Goddess: Horus, Pallas Athene, Janus
- Archangels: The four archangels of the Quarters
- Myths: Prometheus, Perseus
- Virtue: Detachment
- Vice: Inertia, Fear of the Future
- Colours: Various, akin to petrol on water, that rainbow effect
- Symbols: The Empty Room, Prism

The Upper Room

- Who are you?
- The you that's present in your darkest times, the one you listen to when you doubt, when you seek a steady if often tough voice?
- Here are all your past lives, current emotional being, future lives, the totality of the transformations you've gone through, your regeneration process
- Step carefully, knowledge is a tricky mistress. Once see you cannot unsee
- A little goes a very long way
- Do not venture into Daath with the gusto of the foolish, you will not gain anything, and you may be blocked completely.

The Sefhira that isn't a Sefhira

- A state of being, perhaps not a place of becoming?
- There is no temple offered here
- You already are all the things you seek, you're simply trying to remember them
- Whilst it's about knowing, it's not all in the realms of your thinking brain.
- Your emotional brain is at play, deepest emotions come from a place of seeing the game and the steadiness of knowing you've done this before and can deal with anything

Deep Peace

- Take some time to simply breath into your sense of self, your sense of having done the work and the strength it has brought you
- Find a way to find this place within you when you need it
- Breathing is a simple one, deep breaths, hand on heart
- Start seeking and using your own methods
- Be the listener in the darkness of your own self, all knowledge is within you

Judgement

- The card that represents Pluto is Judgement
- It can represent the need to make a life changing choice, a decision that will take you on a new pathway
- The trumpeting angels can be interpreted as a wake up call
- Eggs are sometimes seen in this card too, break out of the shell that holds you, now is the time

Temple Set up

There is none, hold yourself in a place of steady energy as long as you can hold yourself in a place of steady energy and when you feel, know or sense you're not; bring yourself back to a place of steady energy.

You are the temple
